Series 1: 1.45pm - 3.15pm

1.1 Emerging issues in not-for-profit governance

*This workshop will be led by Elizabeth Proust AO, who has been involved in a range of arts, charitable, university and business boards. She has played key roles in developing and leading organisations, including as Secretary of the Victorian Department of the Premier and Cabinet, and Chief Executive of the City of Melbourne. #### 1.3 Love of neighbour: The challenge for parishes

Parish communities are called to reach out in service to those in need. In many ways, they can reach parts of the community that professional service agencies cannot. There is much to be gained from strengthened collaboration between parishes and Catholic social service agencies. This workshop will focus on the ways in which parishes can learn from each other, and Catholic social service agencies can strengthen their relationships and collaboration with parishes, to deepen and broaden the work of the Church in reaching out to vulnerable and marginalised members of the community.

1.4 It's Time ... Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Wellness and Empowerment: Our Personal and Professional Heart Call for Change

Warning: Your attendance at this presentation and workshop will require you to leave your ego at the door as we embark on a personal and professional journey along paths well-trodden and trails yet unknown. Our destination? The place of comfort and energy, which best enables us to honour our call to serve our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander brothers and sisters and enable two-way learning. While acknowledging what has worked in this space, we will also identify what could be done via the privileged stance of our respective ministries today. Let us lament, laugh and learn with each other as we work for personal transformation and professional growth.

| This forum focuses on Pope Francis' Laudato Si and the call to ecological conversion. This highly interactive session will explore the interconnectedness of nature and the earth with the society living on it; the intimate relationship between the fragility of the planet and its impact on the poor, focusing on utility prices; and how the Catholic Social Services sector can be strengthened in its work of walking with and assisting people in hope, justice and love.  |   |   |
| Thursday 22 February9.45am - 10.45am  | Opening Keynote: Hearing, Healing,Hope: The Challenge for the Church andSociety | Phil Glendenning AM  |

| Just as the commandment "Thou shalt not kill" sets a clear limit in order to safeguard the value of human life, today we also have to say "thou shalt not" to an economy of exclusion and inequality. Such an economy kills. Pope Francis has sent a powerful message to Catholics and the global community that our current economic paradigm must change. Too many people continue to be excluded from meaningful participation in our society due to an economy that gives priority to assets and markets over people. The Catholic Church in Australia is responding and has begun a dialogue, through its 2017 social justice statement Everyone's Business - Developing an Inclusive and Sustainable Economy. Speakers will discuss our modern economy and what it means to have a flourishing society in a time of globalisation, marketisation and insecure employment. |   |   |

This working breakfast offers an opportunity for the Catholic social services sector to provide input into this process. What can we contribute as individuals, as agencies and as a sector? How can we strengthen our work in reaching out to the most vulnerable and marginalised in our communities, and in enhancing human flourishing, which is indispensable to the nature of the Church (Deus Caritas #25)? PLEASE ENSURE YOU HAVE REGISTERED YOUR ATTENDANCE AT THE BREAKFAST Email: lucia.brick@css.org.au |  |                                     |

| This forum will focus on how the Catholic social services sector has responded to the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Abuse, and how we will continue to respond in a way that ensures the safety of children and vulnerable persons, and dedication to service. |   |  |

| Friday 23 February2.00pm - 4.00pm   | Masterclass on Pope Francis and Human Rights: Moving justice and solidarity from the dictionary to the workplace of Catholic social services | Fr Frank Brennan SJ AO |
| This year we celebrate the 70th anniversary of the UN Declaration of Human Rights. At the beginning of his pontificate in 2013, Pope Francis reflecting on the 50th anniversary of Pope John XXIII's encyclical Pacem In Terris asked two questions: "Looking at our current reality, I ask myself if the words justice and solidarity are only in our dictionary or if we all work so that they become a reality?" "Pacem In Terris draws a line that goes from the peace to be built in the hearts of people to reviewing our model of development and of action at all levels so that our world may become a world of peace. I ask myself, are we willing to accept this invitation?" In this masterclass, Frank Brennan will lead discussion and reflection on these two questions and the distinctive contribution Pope Francis is making to human rights in the Church and in the world. |   |  |
